Chiropractic and acupuncture supplemental benefit plans

Chiropractic care and acupuncture are increasingly popular ways for employees to improve their overall well-being and treat painful muscle and joint conditions like back pain. In fact, about a third of American adults now use various kinds of complementary care.¹

When you choose a Kaiser Permanente supplemental benefit plan with chiropractic and acupuncture coverage, your employees get extra resources for improving their health, which can help them be even more engaged at work.

Freedom to choose – without a referral

With our supplemental plans, your employees can see a chiropractor or acupuncturist for care without a referral from their doctor.² You have several plan designs to choose from, including these options.
