

Rest and Revive workbook

Tools for assessing and taking control of your sleep

Welcome to your Rest and Revive workbook

Here's what's included:

Sleep log

To record your bedtimes, wake times, and sleep quality. It can help determine if your sleep schedule is causing insomnia or if you're spending too much time in bed. Fill it out each morning when you get up for two weeks, starting now.

Daytime activity log

To keep track of what you eat, your stress levels, and use of caffeine, tobacco, and alcohol. It can show how what you do at noon affects you at midnight. Fill this out each evening before bed for two weeks, starting now.

Sleep action plan

To set one simple, achievable goal for improving your sleep and help you stick to it. Just hold onto this for now – you'll fill out the first half in Week 3 and return to it at the end of the program.

Notes pages

To jot down quick thoughts, extra details about physical activity or diet, and sources of inspiration that don't quite fit into the logs.

TIP

Getting the most from your logs

Your sleep and daytime activity logs will be most effective if you fill them out for two weeks. During that time, don't worry about changing up your routine. The goal for now is just to get an accurate picture of how you normally sleep. Then, in Week 3, you can start taking steps toward improving it.

Sleep log

To complete your sleep log, write down your best estimates for each item every morning after you wake up. Don't watch the clock or write in your sleep log during the night. This may disrupt your sleep.

You may want to make additional copies of this page before you fill it out. Click and type to fill out electronically.
