Get immunized and stay protected

Body

Immunizations are a safe and effective way of protecting yourself and the people around you against certain diseases. From the flu and COVID-19 to other serious illnesses, here are some great reasons to get immunized.

Body Topics

- They're effective. Rather than treat a disease after you get it, immunizations can prevent you from getting sick in the first place or make the illness much less serious.
- They help everyone. Vaccinations can help reduce missed school days for children, which may help improve academic performance. Vaccinated adults also remain active at home and in the workforce.
- They beat getting sick. Immunizations cost less than getting treated for the diseases that the shots protect you from. And the risk of getting sick is much greater than the risk of having a serious reaction to the vaccine.
