Welcome to your walking program toolkit

Starting a walking program at your organization can help reduce the impact of inactivity on your bottom line. And with this customizable toolkit, creating a walk-friendly workspace is easier than you think. The kit is packed with the resources you need to get your employees moving and run an effective program. There's no special equipment required, and it's easy on your budget.

Promotional materials – posters, fliers, email templates, and more – to engage your employees

Surveys to gauge employee interest and measure progress

Wellness Committee Toolkit to help you form your own wellness committee

Goal-setting worksheet to help you make a specific, measurable plan

Walking tracker to encourage employees to keep up with their efforts

Ready to get started?

✓ Take the first step

Maximize your program's impact with this hands-on guide. It's easy to follow and designed to be custom-fit for your organization. You simply check off each step after you complete it – and add your own notes – as the toolkit walks you through the four basic steps of a successful program:

Use data to learn where your organization stands on workforce health.

Set goals, schedule events and activities, and develop a communications strategy.

Launch and promote the program to your workforce.

Evaluate your program's success and set future goals.

Diabetes and cardiovascular health issues are linked to increased absenteeism, lower productivity, and higher health expenses.

With the average person sitting between 7 and 10 hours a day, most of that time at work, it's clear that encouraging physical activity could be your key to improved workforce health – and lower overall costs.
